

The Coffee Experience

Wallacea Coffee was founded in May 2018 by one of the biggest Indonesian Green-Bean Coffee producers and exporters. The company called PT Jaffarindo Palm Mas has been in the coffee industry for 24 years. It is headquartered in Jakarta, Indonesia.

The unique nature of the specialty coffee industry is our commitment to excellence at every level, from the grower through to the barista, and finally the consumer

After servings over hundreds of thousands of customers around the globe and through a decade of experience in the industry. We realized that not all coffee lovers can really enjoy the greatest of morning wake up call & excitement from a single cup of liquid fuels to their body without some negative effects. Fast-forward, the medical expert identified the causes and started to call it the caffeine intolerance individuals, while on the other hand, the big corporations are competing to resolve the issues to take a chance in maximizing their profit with the creation of decaffeinated coffee.

Now, One person can drink a triple-shot espresso without getting the jitters. Others experience insomnia hours after drinking a small glass of coffee. Caffeine sensitivity can also fluctuate daily, based upon multiple changing factors. However, the idea of drinking decaffeinated coffee not only established the phenomenon of a consumer that lost sight of the true purpose of coffee. But also the unethical process of producing the coffee itself has dominated the purpose of focusing on the real problem. Because of the unroasted coffee beans are either soaked or steamed and a mix of water or other chemical like activated charcoal liquid carbon dioxide, ethyl, acetate, and methylene chloride are used to extract the caffeine. The health concern is linked to this colorless liquid that is used in industrial products like paint and adhesives pesticide products.

At Wallacea Coffee, we are focusing on the real objection and bringing the real solution with a Metabolomics Approach which will solve the real problem. Why Civet Cat/Kopi Luwak coffee is the only logical alternative and why we call it “The Coffee Experience”?

Kopi Luwak is not a type of coffee, but rather a method of production. The production consists of partially digested coffee cherries, which have been eaten and defecated by the Asian palm civet. This coffee is perfect for a person who has a sensitive stomach or caffeine intolerance. This process drives the natural enzymes in the civet’s intestines to make the beans less acidic and remove some caffeine from the coffee beans. Yet Certified kopi luwak has more malic acid, citric acid and it is full of inositol, which helps the body in numerous ways than any other type of coffee tested.

Now, we all know the answer to why we call it “The Coffee Experience”. As a global leader of unroasted coffee beans suppliers, it is our commitment to share, educate and direct coffee lovers so that we can all enjoy every single cup of morning coffee without the worry of caffeine intolerance, and at the same time, devalue the true purpose of coffee. After working hard with our local farmer to prove that all of our coffee are ethically sourced. We became one of the only producers that are supported by the Gayo Coffee Protection Society Foundation, with 100% guaranteed that there is no animal that has been ABUSED or HARMED to produce these coffee beans to ensure that there are not single beings experience an adverse effect.

Cheers

I'm not going to lie, I was very skeptical of this product. But having tried it now, I am definitely a believer. I've tried brewing it a few different ways. I bought a French Press for one way. Read all the instructions online on best ways to use it specifically for Kopi Luwak. It always came up tasting weak. I tried the way its mentioned on the back of the bag. Definitely better, but still not quite as strong as I am used to. I used my Ninja Bar and set it to 4oz Concentrated. Beautiful. The flavor is not a punch in your face like so many coffees I have tried. It has a gentle rich flavor. There is no bitter after taste. Ever. Usually as I am getting down to the last of my cup I dread the last few sips that are particularly very bitter, especially when cooling off. No experience at all with this. I have acid reflux as well, and this doesn't seem to irritate it at all. The only thing I did notice that I don't like is that there is noticeably less caffeine in the beans. This is mentioned many places online. I say this because typically a strong cup in the morning will last me all day, or close to all day. I definitely need another after 6 hours. Though that could just be my desire to enjoy another cup. Color me surprised that all the fuss was true. I was even able to get my friend that usually dumps tons of creamer and sugar into his coffee to enjoy a cup black. I am a fan!

i've been a coffee luwak lovers since my first visit in Bali in 2011. I've bought kopi luwak from several different marketplace including Amazon and always ended up costing me a lot. the taste wasn't the same as i have had in Bali neither. So, i only buy kopi luwak occasionally. But now, couldn't be more happier with the price of this kopi luwak coffee. i'm able to afford it for my daily consumption and this one surprisingly taste better. i couldn't believe it! i'm a believer now.

Wanted to go back to the days when I was living in Indonesia, and Wallacea definitely brought me back to those times. Wallacea's kopi Luwak is a quality, genuine and delicious coffee that will leave you wanting for more. It does not get more authentic than this, thanks Wallacea for bringing this product to Amazon and for making me revive those beautiful moments I had while leaving in Indonesia. Must try!
